ARTICLE I. FORMATION AND PURPOSE

1.1 Governing Law and Government Filings. The Company shall be formed in accordance with and shall be governed by the State of Delaware Limited Liability Company Act (hereinafter referred to as the "Act"), except to the extent that the Act permits variation by agreement of the parties and this Agreement provides for such variations. On or after the execution of this Agreement, the Members shall cause a Certificate of Formation that complies with the requirements of the Act to be properly filed with the Office of the Secretary of State for the State of Delaware (hereinafter referred to as the "Certificate") and shall execute such further documents and take such further action as is necessary or appropriate from time to time to comply with the requirements for the formation and operation of a limited liability company in the State of Delaware and in all other jurisdictions where the Company conducts its business.

1.2 Name. The name of the Company shall be The Bedrock I Group, LLC.

1.3 Purpose of the Company. The purpose and business of the Company shall be to engage in any lawful business activity agreed to by the Members and to conduct such other activities as may be necessary or appropriate to promote the business of the Company. The Company may exercise all the powers and privileges either granted or limited under the Act.

1.6 Expenses of Formation. The Company shall bear the expenses incident to its formation. Each Member shall bear his own personal expenses, if any, incurred in connection with his decision to enter into this Agreement.

ARTICLE II. TERM

2.1 Term. The term of the Company shall commence on the effective date of the filing of the Certificate with the Office of the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware and shall be perpetual.

ARTICLE III. CAPITAL CONTRIBUTIONS AND MEMBERSHIP RIGHTS

3.1 Company Capital. The initial capital of the Company shall be the aggregate sum of the capital contributions made by the Members to the Company in the manner provided for in this Agreement. Each Interest Holder shall own a share of the total capital of the Company in proportion to that Interest Holder's Percentage Interest.

3.2 Payment of Contributions. Each Member's capital contribution shall be made by delivering it to the Company within the thirty (30) day period immediately following the execution of this Agreement by that Member.

3.3 Members and Interest Holders. The Company shall have Members and Interest Holders. Members are entitled to Membership Rights, and Interest Holders only hold an Economic Interest. The term "Economic Interest" means an Interest Holder’s right to share in the profits and losses of, and the right to receive distributions from, the Company, in accordance with such Interest Holder’s Percentage Interest. The term "Membership Rights" mean all of a Member’s rights under this Agreement and the Act, including: (i) an Economic Interest, (ii) the right to inspect the books and records of the Company, and (iii) the right to participate in the management of the Company and vote on matters coming before the Members (the "Voting Interest"). For the avoidance of doubt, each Member is an Interest Holder, and each reference to Interest Holder in this Agreement shall be deemed to include the Members. "Percentage Interest" means, with respect to an Interest Holder, the percentage listed next to such Interest Holder’s name in the column titled "Percentage Interest" on Exhibit A.

3.4 Form of Contributions. Unless specified otherwise in this Agreement, all capital contributions made by a Member to the Company shall be made in the form of cash. No capital contributions shall be made by a Member to the Company in property other than cash, unless specifically agreed to in writing by the holders of a majority of the Voting Interests, which writing shall: (a) identify the property to be contributed; (b) state the fair market value of the property on the date of contribution; (c) state the amount and nature of all liabilities secured by the property and the extent, if any, to which the Company shall assume or take subject to any of those liabilities; and (d) state the adjusted basis of the property for federal income tax purposes in the hands of the contributing Member immediately prior to its contribution. The Members hereby consent to the contribution by them of the property identified in Sub Article 3.1 of this Agreement.

3.5 Additional Capital Contributions. No Interest Holder shall be required to make any further or additional capital contributions to the Company, except as required by the Act or this Agreement. No Interest Holder shall have the right to make additional capital contributions to the Company, except with the unanimous approval of all Members, decided as required.

3.6 Withdrawal of Capital Contributions. No Interest Holder shall have the right to withdrawal or reduce his capital contributions to the Company, except with the unanimous approval of the Members. No Interest Holder shall have the right to demand and receive any distribution from the Company in any form other than cash. No Interest Holder shall be entitled to receive any interest on his capital contributions to the Company.

3.7 Use of Contributions. The aggregate of all capital contributions made by the Members to the Company shall be available to the Company to carry out the purposes of the Company.

3.8 Ownership of Property. All Company property, whether real or personal, tangible or intangible, shall be owned by the Company. No Interest Holder shall have any interest in any specific Company property.

3.9 No Right of Partition. Each Interest Holder waives any right he may have to cause Company property to be partitioned or otherwise divided among the Interest Holders, or to file a complaint or institute any proceeding at law or equity to cause Company property to be partitioned or otherwise divided among the Interest Holders.

3.10 Composition of Capital Accounts. The Company shall establish and maintain a separate capital account for each Interest Holder in accordance with applicable federal tax laws. Each Interest Holder's capital account shall be determined and maintained as follows:

a. Contributions, Income and Gains. Each Interest Holder's capital account shall be increased by: (1) the amount of money contributed by that Interest Holder; (2) the fair market value at the time of contribution of all property other than money contributed by that Interest Holder, reduced by any liabilities secured by that property which are assumed or taken subject to by the Company; and (3) that Interest Holder's share of

Company income and gains, including income and gains which are exempt from or not recognized for federal income tax purposes, as computed for book purposes; and

b. Distributions, Deductions and Losses. Each Interest Holder's capital account shall be decreased by: (1) the amount of money distributed to that Interest Holder; (2) the fair market value at the time of distribution of all property other than money distributed to that Interest Holder, reduced by any liabilities secured by that property which are assumed or taken subject to by that Interest Holder; and (3) that Interest Holder's share of Company losses and deductions, including Company expenditures which are not deductible or capitalizable for federal income tax purposes, as computed for book purposes.

3.11 Transferee's Capital Account. In the event of a permitted transfer of a Percentage Interest as provided in this Agreement, the capital account of the transferor shall become the capital account of the transferee to the extent it relates to the transferred Percentage Interest.

3.12 Compliance with Applicable Federal Tax Laws. The manner in which the capital accounts of the Interest Holders are to be maintained pursuant to this Article III of this Agreement is intended to comply with the requirements of all applicable federal tax laws. If, in the opinion of the holders of a majority of the Voting Interests, the manner in which capital accounts are to be maintained pursuant to this Article III of this Agreement should be modified in order to comply with the applicable federal tax laws, then notwithstanding anything contained in this Agreement to the contrary, the Interest Holders shall alter the method in which the capital accounts are maintained and amend this Agreement to reflect any such change in the manner in which capital accounts are maintained; provided, however, that any change in the manner of maintaining capital accounts shall not materially alter the economic agreement between the Interest Holders.

ARTICLE IV. ALLOCATIONS AND DISTRIBUTIONS

4.1 Allocation of Company Items. All items of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit of the Company shall be allocated among the Interest Holders in proportion to their Percentage Interests; provided, however, that for federal income tax purposes such items of income, gain, loss and deduction or credit with respect to property contributed by a Interest Holder to the Company shall be allocated between the Interest Holders so as to take account of the variation between the federal income tax basis of the property to the Company and its fair market value at the time of its contribution to the Company in accordance with applicable federal tax laws.

4.2 Priority Among Interest Holders. Unless specified otherwise in this Agreement, no Interest Holder shall have priority over any other Interest Holder with regard to the return of capital, the allocation of any Company items or the distribution of Company property.

4.3 Reallocation on Transfer. In the event that a Interest Holder's interest is transferred in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement, the allocations provided in this Article IV of this Agreement shall be further reallocated between the transferor and the transferee in the same ratio as the number of days each of them owned the Percentage Interest during the fiscal year of the Company for which the allocation is being made, unless the books of the Company permit the allocation of items of income and expense to the periods of time before and after the transfer, in which case the latter allocation shall be made.

4.4 Distribution of Net Cash. Following the end of each fiscal year of the Company and the adjustment of the Interest Holder's capital accounts for that fiscal year, the Company may distribute the Net Cash of the Company to the Interest Holders. Distributions of Net Cash shall be made among the Interest Holders in proportion to their Percentage Interests. The term "Net Cash" shall mean an amount which is equal to the net profits of the Company, plus the net proceeds from any refinancing of Company property, except that (a) depreciation of buildings, improvements, personal property and amortization of leasehold improvement, if applicable, shall not be considered a deduction, (b) payment of interest on and repayment of principal of, debts shall be considered a deduction, (c) any amounts expended on behalf of the Company for capital improvements or new investments shall be considered a deduction, and (d) any reasonable reserve of capital created to provide funds to be invested in additional Company property, to provide funds for capital improvements for Company property, or to provide funds for any other contingency of the Company shall be considered a deduction. Notwithstanding the general rules for distributions set forth in this Sub Article, if any Interest Holder is allocated in any fiscal year taxable income by the Company in excess of the amount of Net Cash distributed to such Interest Holder in such fiscal year, the Company shall, unless the Interest Holders determine that it is not economically feasible to do so, within seventy-five (75) days of the end of such fiscal year, make a priority distribution to such Interest Holder so that the priority distribution made pursuant to this sentence, together with the Net Cash distributions made to such Interest Holder in the year then ended, will provide such Interest Holder with funds that are reasonably necessary to pay each Interest Holder’s estimated federal, state and local taxes on such passed-through taxable income, based on the highest marginal federal income tax rate with respect to federal income tax calculations and the highest applicable state income tax rate with respect to state income tax calculations.

4.5 Draws. With the prior unanimous consent of all Members, at the beginning of each fiscal year, a periodic draw in anticipation of the distribution of Net Cash to that Member for that fiscal year may be established for one or more Members. Any amounts so withdrawn during the fiscal year shall be credited against any Net Cash distributable to that Member at the end of that fiscal year. To the extent such withdrawals exceed a Member's Net Cash distribution for the same fiscal year, the excess shall be a liability of that Member to the Company payable upon demand but without interest. A periodic drawing right, once determined, may be terminated by the consent of the holders of a majority of the Voting Interests at any time during the course of the Company's fiscal year if it appears unlikely that the Net Cash distributable to that Member for that fiscal year shall equal or exceed that Member's withdrawals.

ARTICLE V. COMPETITION

5.1 Any Member may engage in any other business, whether or not the same or similar to the business of the Company, and whether or not such other business is competitive with the Company. Neither the Company nor the other Members shall have any rights in the income or profits of that business.

ARTICLE VI. TAX, FINANCIAL AND ACCOUNTING MATTERS

6.1 Fiscal Year and Accounting Method. The fiscal year of the Company for both accounting and income tax purposes shall be the calendar year, and for both accounting and income tax purposes the Company shall report its operations and profits and losses in accordance with the cash method (worth looking at benefits of income tax basis) of accounting, unless a different method of accounting is required by applicable federal tax laws.

6.2 Annual Tax Return and Financial Statements. The accountant for the Company shall prepare all required tax returns for the Company as of the end of each fiscal year, including the balance sheet and statement of income and expenses relating to such fiscal year, and a statement of each Interest Holder's distributive share of the items of income, gain, loss, deduction and credit of the Company for tax purposes for such fiscal year. The Company shall furnish each Interest Holder with a copy of each such tax return and statement within thirty (30) days after the Company files its tax returns for such fiscal year.

6.3 Tax and Accounting Matters. All elections with respect to the preparation and filing of the Company tax returns, the reporting of items of Company income, gain, loss, deduction and credit, and all other elections which the Company or Members are entitled to make with respect to Company matters, shall be made only by the Company. All decisions as to accounting matters shall be made in accordance with income tax basis for reporting (GAAP is more expensive at Audit and third party service provider level and no more accurate) applied on a basis consistent with prior periods.

6.4 Books and Records. The Company shall maintain a full and accurate set of books and records at its principal place of business. Each Member and his duly authorized representative shall have access to and may inspect and copy any such books and records at all reasonable times.

6.5 Bank Account. The Company shall open and maintain a bank account or bank accounts in the name of the Company at such bank or banks as of the holders of a majority of the Voting Interests may determine from time to time. All funds of the Company not otherwise invested shall be deposited in and withdrawn from such bank account(s) as the holders of a majority of the Voting Interests may determine. Any withdrawals from such bank account(s) shall require such signature or signatures as the holders of a majority of the Voting Interests may from time to time determine.

ARTICLE VII. MEMBERS

7.1 Duties of Loyalty and Care of Members. The Members shall devote such time to the operations of the Company as they, in their sole discretion, deem to be reasonably required to conduct the Company business and to operate and manage the Company property in an efficient manner. The Members shall use their best efforts to manage the business and affairs of the Company. The doing of any act or failure to do any act which may result in a loss to the Company, if done in good faith and in a manner reasonably believed to be in the best interest of the Company, shall not subject the Members to any liability to the Company. These responsibilities are laid out in Exhibit B.

7.2 Powers of the Members. The Members shall collectively, but not severally, have all of the powers of the Company and may exercise all of the rights and powers of a member under the Act. Except as set forth below, the prior written consent of the holders of a majority of the Voting Interests shall be deemed the act and decision of the Company with respect to any item of business; and the phrase "approved by the Members" as used in this Agreement shall mean such a decision and only such a decision. No Member shall have the right, privilege or power to perform any act on behalf of the Company, unless such act has been approved by the holders of a majority of the Voting Interests. Subject to the terms of this Agreement, Members shall have and possess the same powers and rights as any member of a limited liability company under the Act, provided, that, the Members may only have the power and right to authorize the Company to engage in any of the following with the unanimous consent of the Members:

a. Sell, assign, convey, lease, mortgage or otherwise dispose of or deal with all or any part of the Company property, including, but not limited to, the power and right to utilize all or any part of the Company property as collateral for any indebtedness;

b. Lend money to or borrow money from any person, including any Member;

c. Acquire property from any person, or employ or deal with any person. The fact that a Member is employed by or is directly or indirectly interested in, affiliated or connected with any such person shall not prohibit the Company from employing or otherwise dealing with such person;

d. Adjust, compromise, settle or refer to arbitration any claim against or in favor of the Company and to institute, prosecute or defend any legal proceedings relating to the business and property of the Company; and

e. Enter into agreements with or employ such accountants and attorneys and contract for such other professional services as may be necessary and appropriate for the conduct of the Company's business.

7.3 Compensation for Members. The Members may be entitled to compensation for personal services rendered by them on behalf of the Company in their capacity as Members. For purposes of this Sub Article, reimbursement for out-of-pocket expenses shall not be construed as "compensation". The Members shall be fully reimbursed by the Company for all out-of-pocket expenses incurred by them on behalf of the Company.

7.4 Indemnification of Members. The Company shall appear, defend and indemnify each Member from any and all claims, losses, expenses, costs, fines, penalties, judgments or damages, including reasonable attorneys' fees, which that Member may incur by reason of any act or a failure to act with respect to the Company or in furtherance of its interest, if done in good faith and in a manner reasonably believed to be in the best interest of the Company.

7.5 Personal Liability of Members. No Member shall have any personal liability for the liabilities or obligations of the Company, except to the extent of the capital contributions made by such Member to the Company in accordance with the terms of this Agreement.

ARTICLE VIII. ADMISSION, REMOVAL AND RESIGNATION OF MEMBERS

8.1 Initial Members. All persons having executed this Agreement as Members shall be admitted as Members without any further act on the part of the Company or the other Members.

8.2 Additional Members. Following the execution of this Agreement by the initial Members, persons acquiring Membership Rights directly from the Company (whether the Membership Rights are being issued for the first time or being reissued as a result of a reacquisition by the Company) shall not be admitted as Members of the Company, except upon the unanimous written consent of the Members.

8.3 Successor Members. Any persons acquiring Membership Rights by transfer from an existing Member shall not be admitted as a Member of the Company, except upon the written consent of the holders of a majority of the Membership Rights.

8.4 Preconditions to Admission. In no event shall a Member consent to the admission of any person as a Member of the Company, unless and until:

a. Such person agrees to execute this Agreement, as then amended, and such other instruments as may be required by the Act or which the holders of a majority of the Voting Interests deem necessary or appropriate to confirm and record such person's undertaking to be bound by the terms of this Agreement; and

b. Such person agrees to pay all the reasonable expenses, including attorney's fees, incurred by the Company in connection with the transfer, if any, and the admission of such person as a Member.

8.5 Assignee of a Member. If a person acquiring Membership Rights is not admitted as a Member of the Company as provided in this Article VIII of this Agreement, then such Membership Rights shall be converted to an Economic Interest.

8.6 Resignation of Members. No Member will resign or withdraw from the Company prior to the dissolution and winding up of the Company without the prior unanimous written consent of the Members.

ARTICLE IX. TRANSFERS

9.1 Transfers Restricted. No Member or Interest Holder shall transfer all or any part of his Membership Rights or Economic Interests, respectively, except as provided in this Article IX of this Agreement or with the unanimous approval of the Members. In the event that a Member or Interest Holder violates any of the provisions of this Article IX of this Agreement, such transfer shall be null and void and of no force or effect.

9.2 "Transfer" Defined. The term "transfer" shall mean and include any distribution, sale, transfer, assignment, gift, creation of an encumbrance, pledge, hypothecation, grant of a security interest, lien or other disposition, either with or without consideration, whether voluntary or involuntary, by operation of law or otherwise, including, without limitation, transfers incident to divorce or separation and all executions of legal process attaching to or affecting in any way the Membership Rights of a Member or the Economic Interests of an Interest Holder.

9.3 Transfer Not an Event of Dissolution. Except as otherwise provided in Article X of this Agreement, the transfer by a Member of his Membership Rights shall not cause the dissolution or termination of the Company and the business of the Company may be continued thereafter by and for the benefit of the remaining Members.

9.4 Right of First Refusal.

a. In the event that any Member (the "Offering Member") desires to transfer any Membership Rights (the "Offered Interest") where the consideration is cash, the Offering Member shall first obtain a bona fide written offer for such transfer from an unaffiliated third party. Within five (5) days of receipt of such offer, the Offering Member shall deliver to the Company written notice of such offer (an "Offer Notice") setting forth the terms and conditions for the proposed transfer (which must be for cash) and the name and address of the person making such offer, together with a copy of the offer. The Offer Notice shall constitute the Offering Member's offer to transfer the Offered Interest to the Company and/or the other Members in accordance with this Sub Article, which offer shall be irrevocable for the 45-day period following delivery of the Offer Notice (the "ROFR Offer Period").

b. Upon receipt of an Offer Notice, the Company shall have thirty (30) days to elect to purchase all or any portion of the Offered Interest on the terms specified in the Offer Notice by delivering written notice of such election to the Offering Member. If the Company does not elect to purchase all of the Offered Interest, the Company shall deliver a written notice to the Offering Member and each other Member by the expiration of such 30-day period, stating that it did not elect to purchase all of the Offered Interest and attaching a copy of the Offer Notice (the "Secondary Notice").

c. If the Company does not elect to purchase all of the Offered Interest, each other Member (other than the Offering Member) shall have fifteen (15) days after the receipt the Secondary Notice to elect to purchase all (but not less than all) of the remaining Offered Interest on the terms specified in the Offer Notice by delivering written notice of such election to the Offering Member and the Company. If more than one Member delivers such notice, the Offered Interest shall be allocated to each such Member pro rata based on such Members' relative Percentage Interests.

d. The closing of the purchase of an Offered Interest by the Company and the Members shall take place, and all payments from the Company and the Members shall have been delivered to the Offering Member, by the later of (i) the date specified in the Offer Notice as the intended date of the proposed Transfer; and (ii) forty-five (45) days after delivery of the Offer Notice. At any such closing, the Offering Member shall deliver to the person(s) purchasing such Offered Interest evidence of the transfer of such Offered Interest in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to such person(s) against receipt of the purchase price therefor from such person(s) by certified or official bank check or by wire transfer of immediately available funds.

e. If the Company or any Member fails to timely deliver the notice required under Sub Article 9.4(b) or Sub Article 9.4(c), respectively, such Person shall be deemed to have waived all such Person's rights to purchase the Offered Interest under this Sub Article.

f. If neither the Company nor any Member timely elects to purchase all of the Offered Interest in accordance with this Sub Article, the Offering Member may, during the 30-day period immediately following the expiration of the ROFR Offer Period (which period may be extended for a reasonable time not to exceed 90 days to the extent necessary to obtain any required government approvals), transfer all of the Offered Interest to the proposed transferee specified in the Offer Notice on terms and conditions no more favorable to the proposed transferee than those set forth in the Offer Notice. The Offering Member shall require that, as a condition to any such transfer, the proposed transferee execute and deliver to the Company a counterpart signature page to this Agreement whereby such person agrees to be bound by and subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement as a Member. If the Offering Member does not transfer the Offered Interest within such period, the rights provided hereunder shall be deemed to be revived and the Offered Interest shall not be transferred unless the Offering Member sends a new Offer Notice in accordance with, and otherwise complies with, this Sub Article.

g. The covenants set forth in this Sub Article shall terminate and be of no further force or effect upon the occurrence of firm commitment underwritten public offering registered under the Securities Act of 1933 covering the offer and sale of the Company's securities to the public or a Capital Transaction.

9.5 Permitted Transfers. Notwithstanding anything contained in this Agreement to the contrary, an Interest Holder shall have the right to transfer all or any part of his Economic Interest, and a Member shall have the right to transfer all or any part of his Membership Rights (volitionally while alive, or by death, disability or otherwise) to a transferee that bears one of the following relationships to the transferring Member or Interest Holder: such person's spouse, issue or ancestors, or any trust or partnership of which the person, such person's spouse, issue or ancestors are the beneficiaries or partners.

9.6 Costs and Expenses of Transfer. The Transferring person shall pay all costs and expenses incurred by the Company in connection with any transfer of Membership Rights or an Economic Interest pursuant to this Article IX of this Agreement and/or another person's becoming a Member of the Company or an Interest Holder of the Company, including, but not limited to, all filing, recording and publishing costs and reasonable attorneys' fees and disbursements.

ARTICLE X. DISSOLUTION

10.1 Waiver. Each Member waives and, to the extent that a Member cannot waive, agrees not to exercise any right under the Act or any other law to dissolve the Company, except as provided in this Agreement.

10.2 Events Causing Dissolution. The Company shall be dissolved upon the occurrence of the earliest of the following events:

a. By the written consent of the holders of a majority of the Voting Interests;

b. Upon the occurrence of any other event causing a dissolution under the Act or this Agreement.

10.3 Winding Up. Upon the dissolution of the Company, the last remaining Member(s) or, if none, the personal representative of the last remaining Member, shall conclude the business of the Company, wind up its affairs, distribute its assets in liquidation, and file all certificates or notices required by the Act to evidence such dissolution, liquidation and termination. Except as otherwise expressly provided for in the Act, all decisions pertaining to the dissolution of the Company shall be made in the same manner as decisions made in the ordinary course of the Company's business.

10.4 Final Accounting; Deficit Capital Accounts. Upon the dissolution of the Company, a final accounting shall be made of the capital account of each Interest Holder, adjusted up or down to reflect each Interest Holder's proportionate share of the Company's net profit or net loss from the time of the last previous accounting to the date of the dissolution. In the event a Interest Holder has a deficit balance in his capital account at the time of the dissolution of the Company, that Interest Holder shall be required to contribute sufficient capital to the Company within thirty (30) days of the date of the dissolution of the Company to eliminate the deficit balance in his capital account.

10.5 Priority of Distributions. Distributions in liquidation of the Company shall be made in the following order:

a. First, those owing to creditors of the Company, including Members who are creditors to the Company;

b. Second, those owing to the Members other than for capital and profits; and

c. Third, to the Interest Holders, pro rata, in accordance with their relative Percentage Interests.

10.6 Payment of Claims. Upon the dissolution of the Company, the Company shall pay or make reasonable provisions to pay all claims and obligations of the Company, including all contingent, conditional or unmatured claims and obligations, known to the Company and all claims and obligations which are known to the Company, but for which the identity of the claimant is unknown. If the Company has sufficient assets, such claims and obligations shall be paid in full and any such provision for payment made shall be made in full. If there are insufficient assets, such claims and obligations shall be paid or provided for according to their priority and, among claims and obligations of equal priority, ratably to the extent of the assets available therefore. Any remaining Company assets shall be distributed as provided in Sub Article 10.5 of this Agreement.

10.7 Distributions in Kind. No Interest Holder may demand or receive property other than cash in return for his contributions, loans or advances to the Company or upon distribution or dissolution from the Company as provided herein; provided, however, that in the event that all of the Interest Holders at the time of dissolution so determine, it shall not be necessary to liquidate all of the property of the Company; but the property which shall not be required to be liquidated to satisfy the categories of distribution described in Sub Article 10.5 of this Agreement may be distributed in kind, including, but not limited to, undivided interests in such property, whether or not like property is distributed to each Interest Holder.
