Thanks Austin -
Given that Parakeet Communities has been named as a defendant in the matter, our auditing standards require us to understand the nature and status of the litigation and obtain direct legal confirmation from counsel, regardless of whether management believes the ultimate exposure is immaterial.
Based on the information you provided, it appears that:

- The matter remains unresolved but is in the final stages of settlement.
- Any settlement funding will be provided entirely by the property owners.
- Parakeet is indemnified under the property management agreement.
- No judgment has been entered and there has been no admission of liability.
- Management believes Parakeet's net financial exposure is zero.

Assuming these facts remain accurate, the matter may ultimately have little or no financial statement impact. However, we are still required to perform our audit procedures and obtain confirmation from counsel regarding the status of the litigation and any potential exposure.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Jacquie

Parakeet Communities is named as a defendant in one pending matter: a Chapter 93A claim by five residents against American MHC LLC and Whispering Pines MHC MA LLC over rent increases and tenancy practices at two Massachusetts communities. Parakeet is named only in its capacity as property manager and holds no ownership stake in either property. The parties are in the final stages of documenting a settlement, funded entirely by the property owners, to put the matter behind them. Parakeet is indemnified and held harmless under the property management agreement, so its net financial exposure is zero. No judgment has entered, and there is no admission of liability by any party.

With that said, can you explain the materiality of this to the audit?

Good Morning Austin –

Hope all is well. As part of our required subsequent event procedures, I wanted to send an email with regards to the class action lawsuit involving Parakeet Communities. Could you please provide an update on the status of the case and advise whether the matter still undergoing litigation?

In addition, as part of standard audit procedures, we would like to send a legal confirmation to Eckert Seamans, the attorney handling this matter. Please see the attached for the confirmation letter template. If you could please print on Company letterhead, sign it, and return to us we would appreciate it. Upon receipt, we will send the confirmation directly to counsel via email.

Thank you,

Jacquie
